³ The score of Didone is part of the Contarini collection, which includes almost all the surviving manuscript scores for Cavalli's operas. For this source see Peter Jeffery, “The Autograph Manuscripts of Francesco Cavalli” (PhD diss., Princeton University, 1980), 125–26; Fabris, “Didone by Cavalli and Busenello,” 144–49; Fabris, “After the premiere,” 42–43; Jennifer Williams Brown, “Inside Cavalli's Workshop: Copies and Copyists,” in Readyng Cavalli's Operas, ed. Rosand, 57–93, here 81–82; and the forthcoming critical edition, Busenello and Cavalli, Didone, ed. Fabris and Stangalino. For the Contarini collection, in addition to the works by Jeffery and Brown, see Taddeo Wiel, I codici musicali contariniani del secolo XVII nella R. Biblioteca di San Marco in Venezia (Venice: F. Onganía, 1888; reprint, Bologna: Forni, 1969); Jane Glover, Cavalli (London: Batsford, 1978), 65–72; Thomas Walker, “‘Ubi Lucius?’ Thoughts on Reading Medoro,” in Aurelio Aureli and Francesco Lucio, Il Medoro [facs. of the score and ed. of the libretto], ed. Sources related to Il novello Giasone, reworking of Giasone by G. F. Apolloni and A. Stradella (omitting the poets' names):⁴⁵

³⁷ This score is part of the Contarini collection (see n. 3 above). Studied in Jeffery, "The Autograph Manuscripts of Francesco Cavalli," 111–18.

³⁸ This score is part of Leopold I's Schlafkammerbibliothek: Academia Caesarea Vindobonensis, Tabulae Codicum Manu Scriptorum, vol. 9: Codicum Musicorum Pars I (1897), no. 16657. Studied in Jeffery, "The Autograph Manuscripts of Francesco Cavalli," 219–20; and Brown, "Inside Cavalli's Workshop," 67–68.

³⁹ See Gasperini and Gallo, Catalogo delle opere musicali, 213. This is the oldest of the three Neapolitan scores of Giasone held in I-Nc. It might be the item in the entry "Giasone - Spartito del secolo XVII" that appears in the Indice di tutti i libri e spartiti di musica che conservansi nell'Archivio del Real Conservatorio della Pietà de' Turchini, s.v. "Giasone" (Naples, 1801), https://www.google.com/books/edition/Indice_di_tutti_i_libri_e_spartiti_di_Mu/JUWrtTngmEAC?hl. Indeed, the library of the Conservatorio della Pietà dei Turchini was merged into the library of the Conservatorio de Musica S. Pietro a Majella in 1826; nonetheless, a score of Giasone by Cavalli with the call number 466 appears in the list of volumes that the librarian Giuseppe Sigismondo (1739–1826) donated at the founding of the conservatory library in 1795. Most of his manuscripts are still in the library and present his list numbers on their title pages. However, the manuscript of Giasone lacks the first folios; therefore, it is not possible to identify it as part of Sigismondo's original collection or as belonging to the Conservatorio della Pietà dei Turchini. See Rosa Cafiero, "Una biblioteca per la biblioteca: la collezione musicale di Giuseppe Sigismondo," in Napoli e il teatro musicale in Europa fra Sette e Ottocento: Studi in onore di F. Lippmann, ed. Bianca Maria Antolini and Wolfgang Witzenmann (Florence: Olschki, 1993), 299–367.

⁴² Studied in Bianca Becherini, Catalogo dei manoscritti musicali della Biblioteca Nazionale di Firenze (Kassel: Bärenreiter, 1959), 4–5; and Jeffery, "The Autograph Manuscripts of Francesco Cavalli," 319–23.

⁴³ See Gasperini and Gallo, Catalogo delle opere musicali, 213. These two Neapolitan copies of Giasone might be dated around 1660s–70s. Their scribes are studied in Amato, "Le antologie di arie."

⁴⁴ This score is part of the music collection of Vitaliano VI Borromeo. See Enrico Boggio, Il fondo musiche dell'Archivio Borromeo dell'Isola Bella (Lucca: LIM, 2004), 57; and Nicola Usula, "One More Gem for 'Isabella': The Score of La finta pazza in the Music Collection of Vitaliano VI Borromeo," in Strozzi and Sacratì, La finta pazza: partitura in facsimile, xxxvii–lii.
